

Triple C Transporters Alaska

Thank you for choosing Triple C Transporters Alaska for your Alaskan fishing and hunting vacation. We would like to invite you to contact us with any question or comments you may have concerning your trip. Within this packet you will find all of the information you need to make your trip go as smoothly as possible and insure your stay with us will be an enjoyable one.

You will begin by booking your flight to Anchorage Alaska, We All ways tell our guest to allow for layovers during their flights. Generally the easiest way to find a flight is to shop the trusted travel sights such as Expedia, Travelocity, Orbitz, or cheap Air. Also you may consider using a travel agent form your local community to help in this. Remember to book your flight one day in advance from your arrival day to our lodge and one day after your departure day from our lodge. This will ensure your comfort and allow for weather delays. Once your flight is taken care of you can make a hotel reservation at one of our suggested hotels provide below, or search the internet for yourself but we suggest you use one of our suggested hotels provided. You will rent a car in anchorage and drive to our facility in willow Alaska. Your departure time is 10-11 am the morning. Also you will find a list of suggested things to pack for your trip to ensure your comfort during your stay with us. Provided below you will also find an outline of your trip, amenities and what is not included in your trip and things which you may consider bring with you. Again thank you for choosing Triple C Outfitters Alaska.

Sincerely

Clifford Smith

What to Expect during your Trip

Alaska is a Wonder, and the last American Frontier. It is a very inspiring land. As we were told the first time we came to Alaska, "You don't take Alaska with you when you leave, it takes a piece of you and will captivate and hold you for the entirety of your life. Alaska can have very veritable in weather conditions. So be prepared for any outdoor weather related situation. Hunting Alaska is a life changing experience in the sheer beauty and bountiful game. While staying in a spike camp you must be prepared for all types of weather situations, September can be a wild month in Alaska. It can reach highs of 60-70 degrees and fall below freezing at night and swing to snow and rain to cold temperature at day time and switch to warm temperatures again. The extreme weather is not a concern as long as you follow our hunting gear list to bring with you as well as the supplied gear that Smith's Equipment Rental supplies you with. Again you should be in very good shape for a Moose hunt in Alaska; you will be hiking a lot and packing gear and animals. Yes it is a lot of work but if you are an outdoorsman it will be well worth the effort you put forth. Remember this is a hunt conducted in the bush of Alaska the Last frontier. Safety is first and foremost thing for us at Triple C Outfitters, Triple C Transporters Alaska and Smith's Equipment Rental. Please be in shape and ready to live in the wild. And last, regulations state that Triple C Transporters Alaska cannot willingly outfit any hunter in the field. This is why my family opened Smith's Equipment Rental. They are separate entities working together for a common goal of supplying hunters with services. You will be required to sign a transporting contract with Triple C Outfitters Alaska, and a second contract where as you assume full responsibility for and ownership of the rented equipment while in the field in Alaska.
